Presiding Judges Bench Exchange Order

Pursuant to Government Code Sec. 25.2293(k), the presiding judges of Travis County Probate Court No. 1 and No. 2 may sit and act for each other in any matter or proceeding pending in either court.

When a presiding judge is ruling for the other court, the written orders may be signed by that presiding judge without need of an order filed in the case reflecting the bench exchange or without need of language in any signed written orders reflecting a bench exchange occurred. The case shall stay in the court it is originally assigned to, unless a transfer is agreed to by both presiding judges. An objection on the sole grounds that the presiding judge of the other Travis County Probate Court is sitting or acting on a matter or proceeding in the assigned court will not be considered.

Signed October 23, 2023.

Guy Herman, Judge Presiding
