Travis County, Texas

STANDING ORDER ON DISCOVERY PRIOR TO A DETERMINATION OF BAIL, PRETRIAL RELEASE, OR ANY CONDITIONS THEREOF

1. With the exception of information or data as described in paragraph 4, any information or data which has been or will be provided to any judge for the purpose of assisting the judge in determining bail and any conditions of pre-trial release shall be provided to any attorney representing a criminal defendant prior to said judicial determination. This order includes the defendant’s criminal history record information or other involvement with law enforcement agencies—including but not limited to CJIS reports and the Public Safety Report—any reports or evaluations concerning the defendant’s physical or mental condition or treatment for any substance use disorder, emergency protective orders, orders of commitment and other such information or data obtained or provided by Travis County officials, agencies, or departments in possession of the information or data. Each official, agency, or department shall establish its own procedures for release of said information or data.
2. Criminal-history-related information and publicly-filed documents shall also be provided to the attorney representing the State.

3. Any information the Pretrial Services Department (“the Department”) gathers from statements made by a defendant shall not be shared with the attorney representing the State.
4. The Department shall provide confidential information only to the judge determining bail, unless or until the judge instructs the Department to release the information to an attorney representing a criminal defendant. Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, the following categories:
 - a. Information directly related to the safety of a complaining witness or another member of the community, the release of which could jeopardize that person’s safety;
 - b. Identifying information or contact information for a complaining witness or another member of the community, the release of which could jeopardize that person’s safety; or
 - c. Information otherwise made confidential by law (including, but not limited to, sensitive medical or mental health information relating to individuals other than the defendant).
5. Nothing in this standing order prohibits the parties from agreeing to discovery and documentation requirements equal to or greater than those required by this order.
6. This Order replaces the Standing Order on Discovery Prior to a Determination of Bail, Pretrial Release, or Any Conditions Thereof (effective November 16, 2021), which is hereby superseded and rescinded.
