TAYLOR COUNTY CLERK LOCAL RULES

ADDENDUM TO LOCAL RULES

Addendum Effective Date is September 1, 2026

Rule 1: FOR COUNTY COURT CASES ONLY:

Per Standing Order for Non-Attorney Pro Se Litigants in Taylor County Probate Cases by County Court Judge, Phil Crowley, all non-attorney pro-se litigants may only apply to be executors in Taylor County Court if they are appointed the executors in a valid will and are the only beneficiary under the will.

Non-attorney pro-se litigants may only apply for Muniment of Title if they are the sole beneficiary under a valid will.

Non-attorney pro-se litigants may still represent their sole estate interests in a multi-beneficiary estate in Taylor County Court if they are not applying to be executors or applying for muniment of title.

By filing an application, pro-se litigants are attesting to the fact that they are eligible to file under the Standing Order and are stating that they understand that the Taylor County Clerk's Office is unlikely to give a refund on Filing Fees if a pro-se litigant is not able to proceed on their Application under the Standing Order.

The Standing Order for Non-Attorney Pro-Se Litigants in Taylor County Court Probate Cases shall go into effect September 1, 2026.

Phil Crowley, Taylor County Court Judge
